THE BEELINE FESTIVAL April 5-19, 2009

3 Weekends of New Music @ The Broad Institute

SUNDAY, APRIL 5, 2009 | OPENING EVENT

HONEYBEE MARATHON Two spellbinding concerts glued together with local honey!

CONCERT 1 | 4 pm THE CALDER QUARTET Seamlessly weaving the old and the new, this Los Angeles-based string quartet performs masterpieces by Beethoven (Op. 59 #1) and Ben Johnston (String Quartet #4, the Amazing Grace Variations). They then add robots, 1-bit electronics and the next generation to that list with new commissioned works by Christine Southworth and Tristan Perich. Sponsored by MIT Music & Theater Arts - FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

LOCAL HONEY TASTING RECEPTION 6 pm Sample honey and other products from local beekeepers and restaurants, a honey-paired wine tasting by The Wine Bottega, plus HONEY BAKE-OFF! FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

CONCERT 2 | 8 p.m. GUTBUCKET: "Johnny the Giant Killer" New York's explosive punk jazz quartet will blow your mind performing their original soundtrack to Jean Image's historic animated film, "Johnny the Giant Killer." Follow the adventures of 10-year-old Johnny as he goes into the hive and finds out the real secret lives of bees! (Don't worry, it's G-rated...)

FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 2009

CONCERT 3 | 8 pm IVA BITTOVA The legend herself! Czech singer/violinist Iva Bittova performs trios with Bang on a Can All-stars Evan Ziporyn (clarinets) and Robert Black (bass). Meet the artists afterwards at a post-concert reception!

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 2009

CONCERT 4 | 4 pm ROBERT BLACK (in MIT Killian Hall) America's foremost contemporary bassist presents a program of very old and very new works for solo contrabass and duets with harpsichord. The event will be followed by an afternoon tea with Robert. Sponsored by MIT Music & Theaters Arts. FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 2009

CONCERT 5 | 8 pm ENSEMBLE ROBOT + THE LOUD OBJECTS WORLD PREMIERES of Concert Aria for Obbligato Violin and Robots by computer music pioneer Paul Lansky and Jenny Olivia Johnson's Highway Mass. Plus completely new works by Ensemble Robot and Loud Objects composers for robots and live soldering - who knows what will happen!?! Reception follows.

SUNDAY, APRIL 19, 2009
